Cyber Community Policy

Consistent with its commitment to foster individual responsibility, respect for oneself and others, and a sense of personal honor within a safe and inclusive learning community, students shall not use the internet for transmission of illegal, threatening, libelous, inappropriate and/or offensive materials of any nature including, but not limited to depictions involving sexual, racial, religious or ethnic stereotypes. While the University respects students' rights of privacy, social networking community websites fall within the public domain and can be accessed by anyone in the world, including parents, teachers, other students, and current or prospective employers and graduate school officials. Students are especially advised to withhold personal information from the social networking website that could result in harassment, stalking or other actions of a life-threatening nature. We do not routinely or deliberately review website communities. However, when alleged misconduct is brought to our attention, we have a legal and ethical obligation to investigate the website in question for alleged policy violations, illegal conduct and/or inappropriate material. If we have reason to believe such activities constitute violations of the principles of our Ethos Statement and/or federal or local law, we are further obligated to address such alleged actions through our established student conduct system. As members of LIU, students are also held responsible for alleged off-campus violations as depicted on social networking websites if such conduct is deemed to adversely affect our campus community.
