Professors Pump Iron to Survive Apocalypse

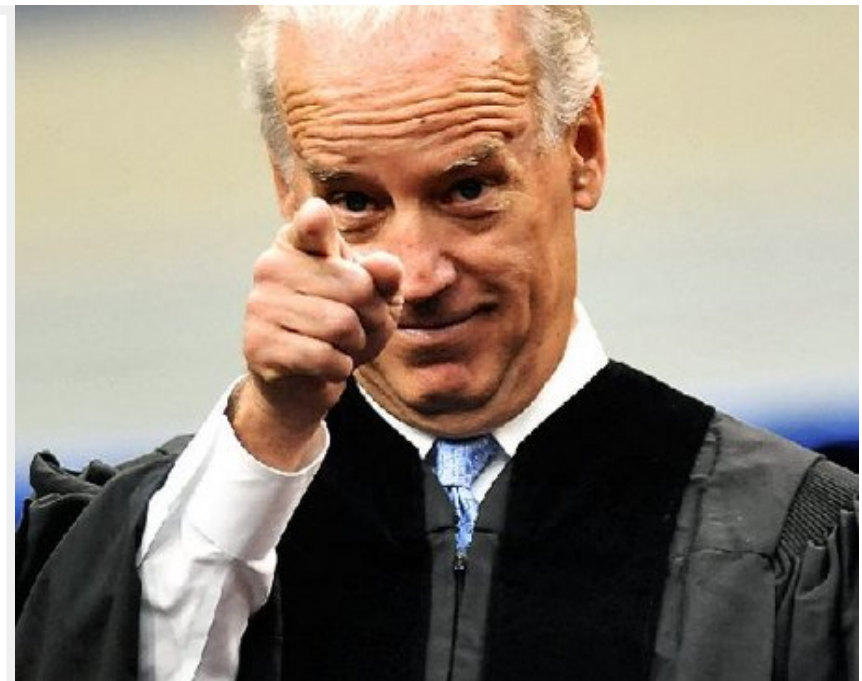

Syracuse, NY

is that way:

A report compiled by Archbold gym names the SUCoL students and faculty with the highest number of sign-ins during the 2009-10 academic year. Students with the most visits include 2L [REDACTED] and 3L [REDACTED]. The faculty list was topped by Professors [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

Asked how he fits the visits into his busy schedule, [REDACTED] said that for him working out comes first. "Yeh I've got the expensive car, and the wife, and the awesome job, and the sharp suits, and the degrees from [REDACTED] but what's all that without rock-hard abs and the guns of fucking [REDACTED]. He continued, "back when I was studying [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] I realized that one day there would be a nuclear holocaust. With the rise of China I now think that day is coming sooner than we ever realized. But they're short people, and I'm fucking huge, so we're going to own their asses". He added, "did you know I went to [REDACTED]"

Professor ██████ gave similar reasons. “People think being a ██████ professor is just writing papers about dudes on camels and teaching the kids who aren’t smart enough to take tax law”, he told us, “but every few weeks I have to fly to the Middle East and kick the shit out of a bunch of Hamas fuckheads”.

But some professors accuse the report of being misleading. “Who the fuck signs in using their real name?” asked Professor ██████. “I make shit up every time I go in there. Last week I was Ted Kaczynski and ██████. And I can put up twice as much as that MIT degree-toting asshole”.

Senate President Elected SU’s Sexiest Semite

Syracuse, NY

Senate President Steve Goodstadt was today named the “Sexiest Semite” at Syracuse University by the school’s Daily Orange newspaper. The campus-wide search received over 900 nominations, whittled down by the editorial board to just twenty. The lucky few strutted their stuff in front of an insatiable audience at a crowning ceremony in the Schine auditorium on Thursday evening. In the final tally, [REDACTED] received over 30% of the final ballot and won by more than twenty votes. In the female category, 3L [REDACTED] finished in 47th place.

Asked what the key to his success was, [REDACTED] told us “I just went up there and did push-ups. They fucking loved it. Some people were doing gay shit like singing Counting Crows songs or talking about the environment. I drive a Jeep and [REDACTED] en to Journey. Suck it”.

[REDACTED] (VPA '13) was a regular at the spin classes [REDACTED] previously taught at Archbold gym. “He has that smile that just makes a girl melt. I lost fourteen pounds my freshman year just because I was spinning so often. And so that [REDACTED] would like me”. [REDACTED] (Newhouse '13) is another fan, “I told [REDACTED] when I signed up that I needed to lose ten pounds to get a bid from Kappa Kappa Gamma. He saw I was struggling and gave me private one-on-one lessons. I owe him so much”.

But not everyone agreed with the decision, 3L [REDACTED] also competed but didn't make the short list. “I don't know what the deal is with that guy, he grins like a fucking retard. I was robbed. Have you seen this hair? Do you have any idea how long this takes in the morning?”

Student Life Issues Daily Etiquette Guide

Low urinals: not just for the handicapped

Syracuse, NY

Faced with the growing concern from the 1L class, the Office of Student Life today issued its first 'Handbook on the Etiquette of Daily Interactions'. The book, available to pick up from the office, includes advice on every facet of daily life in the school. Announcing the release, Dean of ██████████ said, "it sucks seeing the same people day in, day out. We compiled tips we've received from students as well as our own experiences to provide a guide on how to interact with everyone from the professor you had two semesters ago and pass in the halls, to having a locker two down from that guy you blew after the ESLS social at Dukes last year".

Among the tips:

31: The rule of urinal separation still applies in the school, even when it means you have to piss in the one for kids

44: Anyone who sits in a carrel on the first floor and shushes people because they're studying is a fucking douche

59: Ducking into the office of a professor you don't know to avoid Professor ██████████ is acceptable

81: Always take matches with you to the bathrooms outside Career Services. ██████████ doesn't want to smell that

The publication has already drawn rave reviews. ██████████ a senator for the 1L class, told us "this book is a godsend. I messed around with a couple of guys during orientation and it's been awkward since. Now I know I only have to give the a perfunctory nod-and-smile once every second day I see them". ██████████ a 3L, agreed, "whenever ██████████ passed me in the halls I never knew whether I was supposed to say 'Professor' or 'Dean' when I nodded. Now I know it's 'Your Grace'".

Popular Administrator Presumed Dead

Syracuse, NY

Syracuse Police today announced that they’re calling off the search for former [redacted] administrator [redacted]. In a statement, Police Chief [redacted] said “it’s with deep sadness that we’ve decided to close the file on the disappearance of Ms. [redacted]. We’ve put thousands of man hours into our investigation but unfortunately they’ve been fruitless”.

[redacted] 1979-2010 [redacted] served as the [redacted] from [redacted] until her disappearance in [redacted] of this year. Police were alerted when she failed to show up at the office and repeated calls to her home and cell phone went unreturned for two days despite the presence of her car in the Hillside parking facility. Possessions were intact at both her office and home and there was no sign that she had left the area of her own will.

Speaking in response to Chief [redacted] statement, Dean of [redacted] told us, “[redacted] was always a very present member of the office”. Asked what he’d miss most about her, he responded “she was part of the [redacted] triumvirate here at the office. Now there’s just me and [redacted] Dean [redacted] was unavailable for comment.

██████ was always a favorite with students, and was the recipient of the student senate’s “Person I’d Most Like to Hate Fuck” award for two consecutive years. Police concluded their investigation after leads that led them to North Carolina yielded no results. Anyone with information should contact Syracuse Police Department.

New Program Pairs Stressed 3Ls with Promiscuous 1Ls

Syracuse, NY

The Office of Student Life today unveiled a new initiative to provide 3Ls with a distraction from the lack of available jobs. Students who sign up for “On-Campus Intimacy: The Other OCI” will be paired with nubile 1Ls for fifteen-minute sessions in the first floor changing rooms. The first 1L volunteers will receive

In need of release: 3Ls federal work study credit for their participation, but the plan is to incorporate it into the curriculum. “Next we’re we’re thinking of awarding two credits to 1Ls who take part. It’s a fuck-ton more useful than LCR, that’s for sure” explained Dean of [REDACTED]

One of the earliest 3Ls to take advantage of the program said it took his mind of being turned down for the 134 jobs for which he’s applied. Speaking on the condition of anonymously, he told us “at first I felt kind of skeevy about the whole thing, but then I looked at myself in the full-length mirror while I was doing this girl from behind and I said to myself [REDACTED] you’re the fucking man”.

Asked about the program, Senate President [REDACTED] said “I don’t think it’s appropriate that people should be having sex in the changing rooms. Some people use those rooms to change into suits before interviews. Not me, I don’t have any interviews, other people”. Dean [REDACTED] disagreed, “people already fuck like rabbits in those rooms, have you seen the carpets? Once the program gets underway we’re going to have them cleaned more regularly and thoroughly”. He added, “this is like when they banned smoking in planes so they didn’t bother changing the air in the cabin as often, it’s a false economy”.

In a sign of the program’s early success, all 200 of the fifteen-minute slots made available have already been filled. Students in the 1L class interested in participating should speak to [REDACTED] in the Office of Student Life.
