Dear Ms. Harris:

Thank you for your recent letter expressing concern about certain Gettysburg College policies.

First, we believe that our policies are fully compliant with the law, reflect good practice, and in no way violate the legal requirements applicable to private colleges. We would also note, however, that our major student conduct policies are reviewed on a regular basis.

Any review of policies such as those mentioned in your letter is conducted by the group that makes such recommendations on behalf of the College; this group includes students, faculty, and administrators. Our policies are not adopted or revised by administrative fiat. I can tell you that I will forward your letter to that review group for its consideration as it undertakes reviews of Gettysburg College policies.

Sincerely,

Katherine Haley Will
President
